TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE AT SHOW

Wild and Woolly West Attracts Largest Crowd in History of State.

JAM INTERFERES WITH SUCCESSFUL PROGRAMME

Steers and Bronchos Run at Random Among Hundreds of People.

All records for a crowd at the Utah State Fair grounds were broken Wednesday afternoon when over 20,000 people jammed into the grandstands, bleachers, on top of fences, electric light poles, trees, sheds and every other available place from which a view of the field of sport was visible. The management was entirely helpless as far as handling of the people was concerned and the situation was such that it was impossible to give satisfactory service. Although a string of cars several blocks long were pressed into service it took more than an hour to transport the big crowd from the fair grounds to the city. It was the biggest jam of humanity ever seen in this city in attendance at any kind of an amusement.

The crowd was so large that the fair grounds were made to look small. The grandstand was packed to standing room. The bleachers on the west were packed and several hundred railroads found resting places on the high board fence west of the bleachers. Underneath and in front of the grandstand was one living mass of humanity seen in this city in attendance at any kind of an amusement.

People In Danger.

At least 3,000 people took up standing room along the home stretch of the half-mile track. Old Beaver was brought out for Sparks to ride. He made a good start but a poor finish. When the blindfold was taken from the horse the animal made for the crowd. Men, women and children fell over the fence, like ten pins and piled up in heaps, but no one was injured. Old Beaver finally threw the rider and before he could get down the crowd gathered around him and he was unable to get out of the mob until several cowboys rode into the crowd, scattering the people right and left. It seemed as if every one had lost all sense of danger and cared for nothing but to see the bucking horses.

In the wild horse race, a lady attempted to cross the track from the grandstand to the grandstand. As she came out of the gate, a cowboy kicked her and knocked her down and she rolled back through the gate, but jumped up, none the worse for her terrible experience. At first the people in the grandstand were horror-stricken, but when it was seen that she was not seemingly injured she was given three cheers, and so the entire afternoon was spent in exciting incidents.

The programme opened with a half-mile cowboy race. Ford Irwin won in close gallop down the street of people. Brownie, beating Stub Farlow, on Booger Red, by an eye-blink. Little Indian took a cram in the left hind leg, but Robert Lee managed to pull in third. The time made was so fast that the stop watches were unable to record it, and the timers said to let her go at that.

PAUL HUNTER WINS LOW MEDAL TROPHY

Leads Field of One Hundred Starters; Western Champion Is Second.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Paul Hunter of Midlothian, won the low medal score golf trophy of the 36-hole qualifying round of the annual tournament at the Onwentsia club. He led a field of nearly 100 starters, with the excellent total score of 119 for two days' play.

Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater, the 18-year-old western amateur champion, finished second, with 151. R. E. McElwaine of Onwentsia took third place with 152.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN LEWIS-BURKE FIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The ten-round fight between Willie Lewis and Sallor Burke, to be held next Friday night in this city is attracting much interest, because the winner has been promised a battle with Billy Papke and may win the right to fight Stanley Ketchel. Lewis says that he will give Burke fifteen pounds when they meet in the ring and that Burke will weigh 158 pounds. Those who observe the brilliant contests won by Lewis in Paris recently have great confidence in him, but the betting seems to favor Sallor Burke.

gave an exhibition of her skill on Red Bird, the Outlaw, one of the worst bucking horses in existence. The horse was saddled and bridled in front of the grandstand, under blindfold. When the latter was removed, after Miss St. Clair had mounted her horse, the bewildered animal jumped, reared, kicked and twisted in every possible way, but Miss St. Clair was there to stay and all the people conceded that she was easily entitled to her title and there was no one present who wished to challenge her for the honors.

Jack Rich caused a great deal of amusement when he jumped on the back of a wild steer, which escaped the cowboy's lariat, and rode the animal around the enclosure.

"Buffalo" Vernon and Hugh Clark gave an exhibition of trick roping, which pleased the crowd. Vernon later rode a wild steer down the home stretch and threw the animal, using nothing but his hands. He caught the steer by the horns, with a mighty twist, threw it on its back and held it on the ground.

The Indians gave a war dance. They were painted and appeared on the track in their traditional costumes.

Mrs. Danks again defeated Miss Nicholson in the ladies' relay race. Miss Nicholson beat her opponent at the beginning of each relay and was also quicker changing saddles on the horses, but Mrs. Danks had the best horses, which won her the race. With the horses evenly matched, Miss Nicholson would easily have won the contest.

The bucking contest proved the most exciting event of the day. Parks and Stevenson were thrown from their mounts. Several "know-alls" said that it was in the game to take the falls to get the people excited, but these "know-alls" would not ride to ride any of the ponies, and several were offered big money if they could stick on what they termed tame horses. Accord, Clark and Perry were successful in their trials.

Half mile cowboy race—Brownie (Ford Irwin), won; Booger Red (Stub Farlow), second; Little Indian (Robt. Lee), third.

Potato race—Frank Irwin's team won, score 16 to 12.

Ladies' relay race—Mrs. Danks, won; Miss Nicholson, second; Mrs. Sparks, third.

Roping contest—Chas. Irwin, best time, 1:01 1/2.

Bucking contest—Acord rode Gypsy; Clark rode Circle Dot; Perry rode Steamboat; Old Beaver threw Sparks; Red Bird threw Dudley Stevenson.

Wild horse race—Dud Farlow, won; Ed McConnell, second; "Biscuit" Irwin, third.

The show will commence promptly at 2 p. m. today.

Today's Programme.

Event 1—Indian pony race, first, $10; second, $5.

Event 2—Potato race, two teams, purse $25.

Event 3—Steer riding, spectacle.
